SVH Newsletter

Our new thing? Newsletters

BY: JENNIFER BOYLE, DVM

Sewickley Veterinary Hospital is going to try something new. We are going to email and post a newsletter several times per year to keep our clients informed, engaged, and involved!

Our newsletters will focus on providing healthcare tips, pet health education topics, hospital updates, team updates, new services we can provide, and sometimes pet oriented community news and events.

Please feel free to share our newsletters with your friends, family, and neighbors.

Let us know if you have specific topics you'd like to see us cover in future issues.

Are you concerned about your pets potential for heart disease?

Are you concerned about the upcoming increase in fleas and ticks?

Then this newsletter is for you...

Have you been told your pet has a heart murmur? Is your pet a high risk breed for cardiac disease?

We can provide Echocardiograms!

In an effort to provide more comprehensive care to our patients we have invested in the education and equipment to be able to provide echocardiograms. An echocardiogram is a noninvasive risk-free tool to further assess your pets cardiac function. If heart disease is identified it can be staged and managed based on your pet's specific needs. We obtain the images/videos at our office and submit them remotely to a cardiologist for interpretation and recommendations.

Please reach out to us for an exam to discuss this important diagnostic!

Here comes Spring--which means parasites are out!

We see year-round ectoparasites (fleas and ticks) in our region, but there will be an increase as the weather gets warmer. Endoparasites (such as heart worms and intestinal parasites) risk will also increase. It is very important your dogs and cats are on a quality heartworm prevention and flea/tick prevention year-round.
